00:45:58 Rehana Lanewala (she/her): Here is Social Justice Fund's website: <https://socialjusticefund.org/>

00:46:31 Natalie Crue: The experts on community centric fundraising are/is the COMMUNITY

00:46:57 Dayami Gomez: YES

00:47:00 Erica Mills Barnhart: + 1 to that, Natalie!

00:47:12 Anna Rebecca (she/they): Yes, I love this Natalie!

00:47:24 L.A. Williams: Love that, Michelle. Challenges the very heart of the donor-centric fundraising practice

00:47:34 Stephanie Roth: www.grassrootsfundraising.org has lots of articles about how to raise money from a social and racial justice framework and how fundraising is linked to organizing and building power.

00:48:28 Heather Eady: Something I've started doing is asking a client featured in any communication to review it first and ensure that they like the way their story is presented, plus the opportunity to change quotes. Of course there's still a power dynamic, but it's one safeguard against framing clients as victims.

00:48:37 Stephanie Roth: There's a long tradition of social movements starting from people most affected by the issues, from civil rights movement in the 1960s to current BLM and anti-white supremacy work.

00:49:39 Giselle Ferro Puigbo: My team developed a DEI checklist that we look at before sharing out donor-facing content (proposals, appeals, letters). While there is no perfect formula for creating community-centric content, we know that taking time to pause and reflect on content creation can help infuse donor-facing comms with more equitable messaging and storytelling. So, we developed a list of questions meant to interrupt a culture of urgency and create opportunities to reflect on the potential impact of our content and storytelling decisions and support reflection and conscientious decision-making along the various stages of content creation (from brainstorming to publishing).

00:50:08 Elizabeth Brooke-Willbanks: Ooooh Giselle - our team just decided we need to do this. Can you share?

00:50:10 L.A. Williams: Would love to see your checklist, Giselle Ferro

00:50:30 Marisa Stubbs: ^Giselle, me too!!

00:50:39 Jenny Trust: Would also love to see the checklist, Giselle! <3

00:50:42 rebekah giacomantonio: +1 to wanting that checklist!!!

00:50:46 Giselle Ferro Puigbo: Absolutely, would love to know best way to share this.

00:51:04 rebekah giacomantonio: seems like it could be a blog post!!

00:51:12 Marisa Stubbs: #facts

00:51:38 Carina Schubert: would love to have this be shared!

00:52:28 Natalie Crue: I want to highlight this recent interview with my comrade Nyota Uhura about NPIC manufactured activism <https://soundcloud.com/lisa-tiny-gray-garcia/pnn-krip-hop-radio-cyphering-with-nyota-uhura>

00:53:13 Nikkia Johnson: +1 to the checklist!

00:53:47 Christina Ritchie: +1 James!

00:53:54 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): Hey Judy! Thanks for your support of CCF! Yes, the checklist is attached to this article: <https://communitycentricfundraising.org/2020/07/12/how-you-can-start-applying-ccfs-10-principles-today/>

00:55:02 Dominique Calixte: I would want to see the checklist as well!

00:55:14 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): Oh!

00:55:20 Natalie Crue: I also want to say that just because an org seems to be “Black/BIPOC-led” it doesn’t mean that it is. Lumping all Black orgs under the umbrella of “BLM/M4BL” perpetuates harm and erasure. @brownblaze on Twitter and <http://handsupdontshoot.com> have published a lot of information about inequities and hijacking in movement spaces as well as pieces around accountability

00:59:42 Mary Kimball: Yess NK Jemisin shout out!!! Amazing writer.

00:59:42 Lily Grant: N K Jemisin is the best!!!!

00:59:43 Rebecca Allen: Oh man an NK Jemison shout out

01:00:06 Liahann Bannerman: I heard Front & Centered (BIPOC environmental org) limits who it accepts corporate gifts from - e.g. said no to dollars from an airline because of environmental impacts (carbon footprint, noise pollution for low-income communities, etc.) and has a very limited list of corporate donors based on how they impact environment.

01:00:57 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): The City We Became by N.K. Jemisin

01:01:18 Rebecca Allen: *Jemisin. Thanks for sharing that!

01:01:19 Dayami Gomez: I recently had to specifically choose to not accept a high level sponsorship from Goya for an upcoming virtual event that will engage the latinx community on a national level. Being a Latina myself I could not in good faith cultivate this type of corporate engagement when we're trying to bridge a gap between our patient services and the latinx community, especially with health equity for the first time. It was a hard and messy convo to have, but necessary. thankfully my leadership was supportive

01:01:53 Lily Grant: ^^I highly recommend listening to that one if you like audiobooks! The narrator deserves an Oscar for her performance!

01:01:57 Dylan Goodman: I've found support in creating a gift acceptance policy with my management

01:02:06 Dylan Goodman: (and our board)

01:02:10 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): Would love to see it Dylan!

01:02:12 Soudary Kittivong-Greenbaum: @Elisa So True!! Sticking to our values - take courage..

01:02:57 Dylan Goodman: For sure! :)

01:03:01 Jean Dorak (they/them): id love to see that @Dylan

01:03:31 Jennifer Gill: Yes, Rehana. We have to take a stand otherwise we are complicit.

01:04:06 Mikaela Levons: That was a powerful story, Rehana. Thanks for sharing it!

01:04:13 Kemi Ilesanmi: Naming your values clarifies who your family is for everyone! It will attract the folks who feel kinship... and their resources.

01:04:38 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): We thought about that Adine, but then we thought "who are we to hold that power?" And "who is we?" It'd be great to get more feedback...

01:06:17 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): Right? There has to be Adine...

01:06:50 Rehana Lanewala (she/her): Here's a link to the Girl Scouts story.
<https://www.washingtonpost.com/news/morning-mix/wp/2015/06/30/girl-scouts-choose-transgender-girls-over-100000-donation/> I misremembered how much they raised by refusing the $100K gift - they raised $338K not $1m. Still an amazing example of what can happen when you live your values!

01:07:21 Mikaela Levons:Ooh, that's a great practical example, Marisa

01:07:24 Anna Rebecca (she/they): NPR - <You 2.0: Our Pursuit of Happiness -
<https://www.npr.org/transcripts/897673162>

01:07:26 Jenny Davidson: Great story, exactly!

01:07:34 Camille Vaughn: Marisa, that story is incredible

01:07:36 Mikaela Levons:Our practices can transform the way our donors relate to our communities.

01:07:48 Angie Albright: Marisa, yes! I've done a little bit on a team for a refugee family resettlement, and it was exactly as you described.

01:07:52 Mikaela Levons:Hilary is out here preaching the real truth; thank you!

01:08:00 Mikaela Levons:It's a whole paradigm shift

01:08:15 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): yesssssss

01:08:18 L.A. Williams: "returning what was taken" - powerful

01:08:21 Justine Beaton: Love this

01:08:25 Jennifer Gill: Yes, Hilary....it's the reduction of ego.

01:08:32 Rehana Abbas: Yes!!!!

01:08:35 Yesenia de León: 100%

01:08:36 Anna Spack: How do we get more donors to have that mindset though!!! ahh

01:08:39 Camille Vaughn: Hilary, thank you!

01:08:44 Jenny Trust: 1000%

01:08:54 Deriek Cruz: !!!

01:09:47 KellyAnn Romanych: Yes...even if, even if... way to say it Michelle Shireen Muri

01:10:00 Dylan Goodman: So, I see the gift acceptance policy as a jumping off point for more clear strategy against white supremacy, but we have a statement that says, "Keshet actively solicits gifts and grants to further the mission of the organization and support its core programs, as well as special projects. Donations and other forms of support will generally be accepted from individuals, partnerships, corporations, foundations, Donor Advised Funds, or other entities, subject to the limitations in this policy."

01:10:37 Anna Spack: YES

01:10:38 Michelle Shireen Muri (she/her): They were never designed for repair...

01:11:11 CCF Seattle: <https://inequality.org/great-divide/gilded-giving-2020/>

01:11:12 Liahann Bannerman: Was in a giving planning workshop last week with Social Justice Fund, and they WERE educating donors about their relationship with nonprofits - humility, empathy, and building TRUST - e.g. MYGOD (multi year gen operating dollars... thanks Vu Le) - need more of that for donors at all levels.

01:11:14 Mikaela Levons: James, such an excellent point, harkening to the foundation of philanthropy in the U.S. Completely entangled with our puritanical roots, etc.

01:11:52 Mikaela Levons: "MYGOD" = best acronym ever, heh heh

01:13:36 Joni Whitworth: YES! Thank you for centering healing.

01:13:51 Randi Hogan: Quoting Edgar Villanueva, "We are all infected by the 'colonizer virus' which urges us to divide, control, and exploit. Nowhere is the virus more symptomatic than in how we deal with wealth."

01:13:58 Jennifer Gill: Our organization is starting a group around reading "White Fragility." It will include volunteers, board, staff, members, residents.

01:14:30 Rehana Lanewala (she/her): Gilded Philanthropy <https://inequality.org/great-divide/gilded-giving-2020/>

01:16:09 Marisa DeSalles (she/her): this checklist is devastating... I love it!

01:16:18 Anna Spack: This is awesome, could you send?
